

Journal entry: Using freeze-frame images to structure the story

Today you will create freeze-frame images (still stage pictures) that describe specific moments in your story. These will be shown to the class. Then you will use these images as starting points for spoken thoughts, and to improvise the action following that moment.

Specific moment	Freeze-frame image	Ideas for improvisation
1. Action at the beginning of the story
2. Point of tension that results from the 'hook'
3. Climax
4. Flashback
5. Resolution
